

Benedict KANAKAPPALLY

Fr. Benedict KANAKAPPALLY

born in 1958 at Ezhupunna in the State of Kerala, India, is a Catholic priest belonging to the religious order of Discalced Carmelites. He has a Doctorate in Philosophy from the Catholic University of Louvain, Belgium.

After a period of teaching in different institutions in India, he joined the academic staff of Pontifical Urban University in 1996; from 2017 he is Professor Ordinarius on the Chair of “History and Phenomenology of Religion” in the Faculty of Missiology. He has served two terms as the Dean of the Faculty of Missiology and one term as the Vice-Rector of Urbaniana University.

Consulter to the Pontifical Council for Interreligious Dialogue from 2007-2020, he has authored different articles and books on non-Christian religions and is the co-editor of the Hindu-Christian Dictionary. Essential Terms for Inter-religious Dialogue (Somaiya Publication Pvt. Ltd., Mumbai, 2017), which is published also in Italian by the Urbaniana University Press.

